

CHICKS

An eggcellent choice. Who knew something so tiny could have such a huge impact on a family's health and food security? In about 22 weeks, baby chicks grow into egg-producing chickens - supplying a great source of protein and income.